> Required Skills
Getting Shaheded to the face is the only skill any western army wants from its meat brigades. All the pipe-fitting communications, welding and cyber security work has already been outsourced to Israeli and Ukranian private companies operating out of Dubai and the Bahamas.

Your government want you all dead. The war is just their excuse. The more effective the Iranians and Russians are at wiping out out, the better your governments will like 'recruiting' you.

Ukranian press gangs also seem to be unarmed. American press gangs will almost certainly be armed and just instantly kill you as soon as you resist. The goal isnt to draft people to fight a war. The goal is to kill all whites. If that can be fast tracked without having to pretend to train you and send you to a "front line" first, then thats a win in their book.

I'm an America first, isolationist. I believe we could fortify the North American continent and withdraw into our own nation and focus all of our efforts on restoring the greatness of our country. We could use the natural resources of the North American continent and the technologies which exist, to become 100% independant with zero inputs from the outside world. We could fully isolate like Japan used to do, and our white civilization would flourish. It would thrive. Because white people are highly productive geniuses when we are not being systemically oppressed by zionist jew foreigners. And the traitors the bribe or blackmail.

War can be avoided.
If it isn't then it can only mean one thing: the global elites want to thin out the herd.

If WW3 comes it will be a fake war contrived with pretenses. What I mean by that is it will be a war organized entirely for the purpose of attriting the population. Not for legitimate national defense. Not because of diplomatic failures. But entirely for killing off vast swathes of the global population.
A fake war.
It's insinuated in Orwells 1984 that the three major powers are not actually in a real conflict with each other. They used the war to control their respective populations.
In another book called "The Wanting Seed" by Anthony Burgess, the govt promotes homosexuality and creates fake wars to manage the problem of over population.
Know the hour.

you have the right to refuse under the US Constitution which says you can't be a slave except as punishment.
if you get a draft letter you are legally required to attend the appointment stated on the draft letter, if you don't you will be committing a crime. so you attend the appointment and then refuse to sign up or 'volunteer'. they'll threaten you and bully you but they know the rules and so they will ultimately kick you out because a guy refusing in the waiting room is bad for business. it's like Jury nullification in a court case:if you mention it the kick you out because they don't want people knowing about it.
at the end of the day, legally you still have to volunteer and sign up and agree to join the military.
they'll ruin everyone who refuses reputation using bots so you might have a shite life but you'll have your legs.

I wouldn't worry too much. AI is retarded. Drafting people with those skills and plucking them from companies that already make stuff wouldn't make sense.

Drafts are necessary to replace casualties. People with those skills are not working the front lines, if not at all. The military is not hiring aerospace engineers. They don't make anything in house. Our military tech is completely dependent on external contracting companies. The only part of the military that actually hires smart people are submarines which need them because they live in completely isolated environments for 90 days at a time with a nuclear reactor.

What is more realistic is that the military would start commandeering companies that have any manufacturing capacity and warehouse space to start making military tech, similar to world war 2.

OP's post is fake or just from a retard ai.

If you're forced into a political union that doesn't represent you and you're denied the right to leave it, then you are essentially a slave.

If it is anything like in Ukraine we absolutely will. Sending infantry in mass just to get blown up by drones is entirely useless for any other purpose then genociding the population.

Someone invades your country? Use bombs and assassinate their leaders. No infantry required. Don't have enough bombs? Create more of them. Don't have the infrastructure? Surrender.

Simply because that's the level of cognizance held by the average human who interacts with AI. It's the same way the internet as a whole got dumber as more and more dumb people were allowed to use it. Things will always conform to the lowest common denominator, especially where profitization is involved, but especially AI, which literally works by regurgitating what it's being fed.

The US in 2026 will conscript those in large private debt, then have them fired from their corpo jobs if they refuse. This opens the door for more immigrants to replace them and take on debt. So if you're debt free and paying taxes you survive. You align with extending the monetary policy's collapse. Save the day.

Correct, white genocide. They already have chinks and browns to do those jobs in the military.

They will draft white tradesmen and unemployed college graduates, and then pull the switcheroo once they are in.

"Sorry Brad, but we have a sudden and unforseen need for infantry, and you have been selected and you have no choice in the matter and you have no recourse and my decision is final."

even in Israel they have been moving Unit 8200 smart nerds to the front lines, and into pilot training school, due to severe manpower shortage.

Thousands of white boys will fall for this trick. They will think that their skills and high aptitude test scores will prevent them from becoming cannon fodder in the mountains and valleys of Iran.

The thing about war is you need to be realistic. If you don't take an honest appraisal of your opponent you have zero chance to win.

They're lying.
They posture as if you'll have a technical duty and send you to the front because no with half a brain would willingly let themselves become cannon fodder in an offensive war.
This happened to a few guys I knew who signed up for the GWOT under the impression they would be handling infrastructure on bases without seeing action.

A man's life is 50 years. I haven't done the war thing yet. Gotta get it in. Glory an sheet even if I'd be fighting for the wrong side.

The point of a draft is to have enough manpower to not have to do that. You want capable people at the front line and your nigger riff-raff in the back where they can't fuck things up as much.

ok tru but i'd rather be closer to kill the enemy while im being droned than matching colored wires in the back and i get turned into a fpv clip or something. idk seems more fun

I don't think it's that scary, I think they could use an old school mountain whisperer like me who's spent a lot of time in the bush, I'll pull out some ancient pioneer tricks, put my ear to the ground and tell you which way town is and which way the herd of buffalo is

I'm going to be real with most of you. NOW is the time to being setting up an exit plan. Research and acquire foreign visas. Study the local language. Place your money in easily transferable places. When the time cones to leave the window will be short and the smart ones who prepared will be out while the lazy retards will be bussified like Ukrainians who didn't leave while they still could.

That is why people left Russia when war began? They're vanning people like hohols, if they can't lure enough retards with "rearline" positions, which means they're shipped to the frontline after a day or two in the rearline.

No one is getting Shaheded because they go 100 mph and can be intercepted with ease or even brought down with a 50 cal.

> You think you're going to get a comfy position in the backlines.

Not really. I'm using it to design a buoy that came to me in a dream and that comes as the epitome of a life full of coincidences. I'm doing industrial-grade art that's only highly meaningful to me, and deep down there is nothing more worthy to do in one's life.

It just turns out that in the process I'm developing skills and software assets for what would amount to a comfy niche if it turns out to be the case.

I'll leave you to your seethe and hatred and your not that fulfilling day-to-day life. Don't bother answering I have grown wise enough to no bother. What more can I say? To suggest that you let your cope-seeking reflexes take over once more, letting words designed to hurt foam at your lips, ready to fly across your keyboard, oblivious to your own nature. Don't waste your time buddy, there must be a solution for you too.
